To whom it may concern,

We confirm that Hanni Yang was employed as a Fashion Assisting Intern with this organisation from 5th January to 27th March 2015.

During her stay here at Teatum Jones, we witnessed the growth of her confidence and skill within all areas of our company. She took each task positively with huge enthusiasm and dedication to achieve it. She never feared to take on responsibilities which were out of her comfort zone; we can see she was eager to learn and always strived to maximise her experience and knowledge at our company.

We feel her performance excelled dramatically during the final stages of AW15 preparation, and due to her positive attitude and confidence towards our company, she was appointed the role as one of our main backstage team co-ordinator during our London Fashion Week AW15 Catwalk show. Throughout the show, she demonstrated great determination and understanding; she played a vital role in our company and we are truly grateful to have such a mature and passionate member working in our team.

Hanni is very polite and willing to commit to achieve all tasks that are given to her. She is always hungry to experiment, learn and explore; she is also an extremely reliable, independent individual with confident sewing skills. She is also a very logical person with great communication and justification skills.

We would happily recommend Hanni Yang for any job opportunity or internship position as we consider Hanni to be a highly valuable member of any team. We have no doubt this young lady is going to go extremely far and we wish her all the luck in her journey.

Yours faithfully,

Catherine Teatum and Rob Jones
